Directions: Respond to one (1) of the following prompts. Your writing should demonstrate a comprehension of the topic at hand and an ability to connect it to the works of the literature we have read thus far. Additionally, your conclusions should be supported by a body of textual evidence; in other words, be as specific as possible! (For example, if writing about The Catcher in the Rye, it is better to refer to Mr. Antolini by his name rather than “that creepy guy.”)

Study Tips:

- Make sure to start preparing a few days before the exam!
- Remember that with the exception of the essay, this exam is all multiple choice!
- Create a strategy before diving in!
 - Plan on what you need to review, determine how long you need to spend on each area, and then go for it!
- Review old exams, quizzes, and worksheets!
 - Dedicate time to reviewing materials that gave you most difficulty before!
- If possible, study in a group!
